BIG SANDY CAMPUS OPENS AGAIN

The following was written by Pastor General Herbert W. Armstrong en route from Big Sandy, Tex., to his Tucson home Feb. 19.

By Herbert W. Armstrong
I have spent the entire afternoon on the Big Sandy campus. It was a revelation! I had forgotten how beautiful it is!

And many of the inside facilities are actually superior to those on the Pasadena campus. I found everything beautifully maintained, both on grounds and in buildings. It is a superior facility!

After conferences with Raymond McNair, deputy chancellor at the Pasadena campus; Leon Walker, to be deputy chancellor at the Big Sandy campus; Don Ward, to be dean of faculty at Big Sandy; Ron Kelly, to be dean of students; Ellis LaRavia, director of grounds at both campuses; and Leroy Neff, my executive assistant; considerable progress was made in selection of the faculty of the reopened Ambassador Junior College — to be a two-year college, opening this fall.

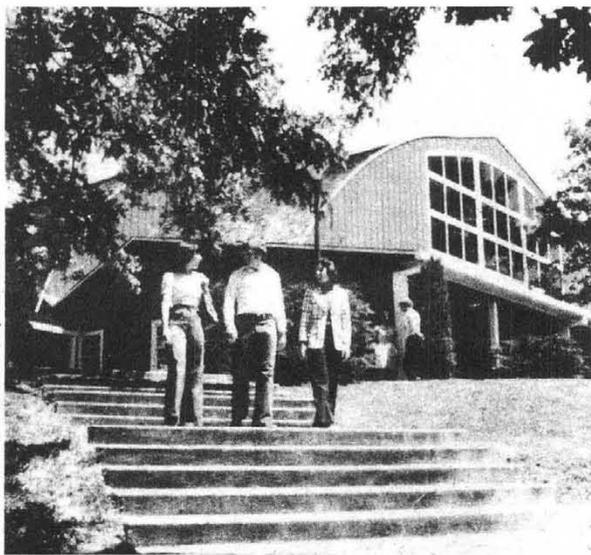

I cannot announce the new faculty until members have been contacted and their appointments confirmed. But I can tell you that all considered faculty members are loyal members of the Worldwide Church of God. Also that the proposed faculty, subject to their acceptance, will be selected from 10 Ph.D.s and eight holding M.A. degrees — none lower.

We were enthusiastically elated over the prospect of such a fine and highly qualified faculty — and all dedicated members of God's Church!

I had not seen the new Science Lecture Building, with its labs and a lecture auditorium seating 200, and available for classes other than those in science. It is a fine facility in every respect, up to Ambassador standards.

I was surprised to see, on inspection, that dormitory buildings are in excellent condition. The Library Building — in fact all facilities — are in excellent condition, and have been well maintained.

It was a joy to have luncheon served in the same seat I had previously used for years — and the room seemingly as new as when first occupied.

The auditorium is a beautiful facility as it was remodeled some little time before the closure of the college. It will seat more than 2,500 — twice the seating capacity of the superb Ambassador Auditorium in Pasadena — and a beautiful room.

We all felt like shouting for joy. The campus, with very little work to be done on it, is ALL READY for reopening to new students this fall. One hundred new freshmen will be admitted. Seventy-five sophomores will be transferred from Pasadena.

ADVISORY COUNCIL OF ELDERS FORMED

By Herbert W. Armstrong
In the organizational pattern of God's Church an ADVISORY COUNCIL OF ELDERS has been formed. It is not a legal board of directors.

Actually the Worldwide Church of God is a spiritual organism, created by GOD — not a legal corporate organization created by this world's laws.

But, in order to function in the world in an organizational manner, the Church of God has needed to be incorporated according to state laws. The members of the Church are NOT members of the "Worldwide Church of God, Inc.," a California corporation, nor of "Herbert W. Armstrong, a corporation sole," under which our financial operations currently are functioning (since the massive lawsuit by the state of California).

The California corporation, "Worldwide Church of God, Inc.," does require a board of directors. The corporation sole does not.

But, regardless, the GOVERNMENT in God's Church, a spiritual organism, is government from the top down. God is Head over all — even over Christ. Christ is Head of the Church. He directs and operates the Church through His chosen apostle. In such office I have to appoint managers or directors of various operations under me.

God says through Solomon that in multitude of counselors there is safety. We are told not to put our trust in a man, but there is safety in a number of counselors. I have always followed that admonition. Beside prayer and looking to God through Christ for guidance, I have always counseled with those I consider best qualified to advise in the subject at hand.

THIS ADVISORY COUNCIL OF ELDERS, therefore, is a safety valve, in addition to relying on guidance from God.

For this Council I have chosen from among our older, tried and proven loyal ministers — men whose fruits show the guidance and leadership of the Holy Spirit, men of spiritual wisdom and balance. In order that we may meet frequently, or on quick notice when necessary, I have chosen men located in or near Pasadena. They are not the only ones qualified. I may add others later as conditions require.

The Council of Elders, as of now, consists of Dibar Apartian, Dean Blackwell, Robert Fahey, Ellis LaRavia, Raymond McNair, Leroy Neff, Joseph Tkach, Leon Walker and, as adviser to the Council, Ralph Helge.

Pastor General speaks to brethren in Big Sandy

The following article was written by Joseph Tkach Sr., director of Ministerial Services. Mr. Tkach accompanied Pastor General Herbert W. Armstrong to Big Sandy, Tex., Feb. 28.

BIG SANDY, Tex. — Immediately following a standing ovation Pastor General Herbert W. Armstrong spoke to more than 3,000 brethren from surrounding church areas assembled on the Ambassador College campus Feb. 28 for Sabbath services.

Mr. Armstrong emphasized that God is pleased with His Church and Work, and that growth is once again near the 30 percent mark that the Work experienced for more than 30 years.

"The Big Sandy campus is to reopen and we are considering the reopening of Imperial Schools," Mr. Armstrong said.

Mr. Armstrong also said he has completed a dozen new television programs and announced that Chicago, Ill., television station WGN has opened its doors to the Church.

'Traveling pope' tours Philippines, Japan

PASADENA — Pope John Paul II recently completed his ninth trip outside Italy in his first 28 months in office. This time the focus was Asia, where his 12-day, 20,500-mile odyssey took him to the Philippines, Guam and Japan with stopovers en route in Karachi, Pakistan, and Anchorage, Alaska, where he celebrated mass.

Asiaweek magazine referred to the spectacle in almost Barnum and Bailey terminology, calling it "the greatest religious show on earth."

Philippine tightrope

The biggest welcome of all was in the Philippines. Significantly, the pope arrived just days after God's apostle, Herbert W. Armstrong, had completed a highly successful series of meetings, proclaiming the true Gospel.

Unlike Japan, largely untouched by the influence of Catholicism, John Paul II was on "home soil" in the Philippines. Eighty-five percent of the 48 million Filipinos are members of the Catholic church, nominally at least. The church's power and influence rivals that of the government. Ruled by 104 bishops and 5,000 priests, the church directly runs 12 universities, nearly 1,900 schools and an assortment of newspapers and magazines. It also owns more than 20 radio and television stations. The Philippine church is reputedly the richest parish in the Catholic world.

Thus, whatever the pope said was, so to speak, law. He lectured President Ferdinand E. Marcos — who recently lifted martial law — on the need to preserve "the fundamental dignity of the human person" and the "basic rights" protecting such dignity "even in exceptional circumstances." President Marcos, a Catholic, humbly and publicly begged forgiveness from the pontiff for imperfections in Philippine society.

The pope nevertheless walked a careful political tightrope — just as he had on earlier visits to Mexico and Brazil. On several occasions, before slum dwellers and agricultural workers, he counseled the poor not to resort to "hate, class struggle or violence" to redress their grievances. He did uphold, however, the sugar workers' rights to organize — a hot political issue in the Philippines — to fight for a "just share" of the industry's profits.

The pope, while hardly shunning political issues himself, counseled the Philippines' political activist priests against meddling in politics, as he did in Mexico. "You are priests... you are not social or political leaders or officials of a temporal power," he said.

Brotherhood with Muslims

While on Mindanao, the pope appealed for peace among the island's battling Christians and Muslims, saying they are "passengers on the same ship." Muslim leaders responded with enthusiasm to the pope's appeal for an enlarged dialogue between Muslims and their "Christian brothers and sisters."

The pontiff said that "the whole world, with its longing for greater peace, brotherhood and harmony, needs to see fraternal coexistence between Christians and Muslims in a modern, believing and peaceful Philippine nation."

John Paul's oft-repeated theme of a common-front approach toward Muslims was evident as well on his initial stopover in Karachi. It was an obvious goodwill gesture directed to the world's 800 million Muslims.

'Wants to go everywhere'

John Paul II's trip was not limited to the "saved" of the Philippines. He used the occasion of his visit to send a radio transmission to all Asia. The message was directed primarily to Communist China, however. He said he "ardently desired to express my affection and esteem to all my brothers and sisters of the church in China."

Chinese authorities have separated Chinese Catholics from the authority of Rome. The pope wants to restore this link, and desires greatly to go to China. ("He wants to go everywhere," noted a Vatican insider.)

Peace mission in Japan

The trip to Japan was the first ever for a reigning pope. (There are only 400,000 Catholics in Japan.) In Tokyo, the pope spoke ecumenically to Shinto and Buddhist leaders, saying that Christians "are willing to collaborate with you on behalf of man's dignity [and] his innate rights."

The intended highlight of the Japanese leg of the trip, however, was a visit to the "ground zero" areas of atomic-bomb-devastated Hiroshima and Nagasaki. In Hiroshima the pope proclaimed, "I have come as a pilgrim for peace," pledging that "we will work untiringly for disarmament and the banishing of all nuclear weapons. Let us replace violence and hate with confidence and caring."

The pope (called Roma Ho-o by the Japanese) admitted to Prime Minister Zenko Suzuki when the two met that his appeal for peace was the central reason for including

Japan on his grueling trip. In contrast to the Philippines, the lack of banners, pope T-shirts and parade hoopla in non-Catholic Japan underscored the serious nature of his mission. Regarding a speech

'From now on it is only through a conscious choice... that humanity can survive.' He warned against 'technological development for its own sake' and 'nonstop economic expansion' that leaves the poor behind.'

Contrasting messages

delivered in Hiroshima, Time magazine reported:

"To many pope watchers, it was far more powerful than his two previous major speeches as a world statesman, one to the United Nations General Assembly during his American tour in 1979, the other at UNESCO headquarters in Paris last year. 'Humanity must make a moral about-face,' the pope said.

should be no coincidence that this pope is traveling more and more, bearing his message and philosophy of peace — basically one of uniting the religions of this world in a common front under his leadership — at the same time that God's apostle is carrying the true Gospel announcement of the coming age of peace to heads of state and government around the world.

Letters TO THE EDITOR

Format changes

I would like to say how much I appreciate the change in recent months in the front page of The Worldwide News.

I refer to the prominence now given the articles of Mr. Armstrong. There's a new impact not only in the headlining of the articles, but in their content — God's apostle really telling it how it is. It's really inspiring to the readers, and has given new life to The Worldwide News. These articles of Mr. Hogberg's get better every issue. He's really got his pen (or typewriter) on the pulse of events.

After Mr. Armstrong's front-page articles, "Worldwatch" is next in priority for me. Then on to Mr. Dexter Faulkner's column, "Just One More Thing," which is most encouraging.

Brethren in other countries

Each and every article fills a need that the members of God's Church have.

I especially like the ones that depict life for our brethren in other countries. It's so easy to forget that other countries in this world are so vastly different in many ways to our own native land.

But this paper helps to bring these differences to light and makes us really appreciate the varieties of human life and the unique individuality of each and every person in God's Church.

It also helps us to realize that our brethren around the world have many different hardships — some of which we in the U.S. have never before encountered. It is truly an inspiration to see our members combat and overcome each of their ordeals.

India visit

As John Halford wrote of his and Mr. Matthews' and Mr. Kulasingam's visits to brethren in India I felt proud of the happy D'Costa family of six living in one room. They must have really welcomed the three representatives of God. And I am thankful for such faithful and caring men who travel so far and bring hope to our so far away brethren.

And then from Cameroon, Mr. Matthews tells us about the local elder Mr. Ray Clure and his wife Rhonda's experience. How frightening, how thrilling. How wonderful!

Just one more thing

By Dexter H. Faulkner

"Criticism is a study by which men grow important and formidable at very small expense" — Samuel Johnson.

Dr. Johnson, an 18th-century writer and literary critic, could candidly criticize even his own field — a bona fide critic if I ever saw one. In certain professions, such as my own, one of the main responsibilities is to critically evaluate other people's work. Manuscript after manuscript must be read and each judged on its relative merit.

(Fortunately, I don't have to carry this burden of responsibility alone. Several editors and proof-readers go over each article and, of course, Mr. Herbert W. Armstrong gives the final approval.)

Being a critic is part of my job — and that's not bad. Webster's first definition of the word critic is "one who expresses a reasoned opinion on any matter involving a judgment of its value, truth or righteousness, an appreciation of its beauty or technique..." And that's the way I try to approach my responsibilities daily.

First, I look for the valuable points the writer desires to share with his audience. I look for something to appreciate. Some of the articles are gems, but they are diamonds in the rough. They only need a few rough edges removed and a little polish to expose their true beauty and value.

But, what if I didn't take this positive viewpoint, or worse yet, what if Mr. Armstrong should suddenly start rejecting every article sent to him because none were perfect?

Perhaps because of a typographical or grammatical error or because our graphic artist chose a less-than-perfect illustration or photograph?

You people out there would be left famished, without the spiritual food vital to your growth and development toward God's Kingdom! Thankfully, Mr. Armstrong follows the example of Jesus Christ and looks on the heart and intent — to the substantial spiritual food value of the material.

It's not that he's not concerned about these other matters — he is, and doesn't hesitate to point them out when necessary — but he views the material in the proper perspective. He doesn't "throw out the baby with the bath water."

How about you? Have you found yourself dealing out more criticism than encouragement lately?

No doubt all of us would have to admit to being overly critical at one time or another, whether it be of our mate or children, our employer or fellow employees, or even our minister. Although we may tend to excuse it as a common human frailty, we shouldn't take a negative, critical attitude in ourselves lightly.

Throughout the Bible, Jesus Christ, the spiritual head of this Church, warns us not to be super-critical. For example, in the familiar passages of Luke 6: "Judge not, and ye shall not be judged; condemn not, and ye shall not be condemned; forgive, and ye shall be forgiven" (verse 37).

"And why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brother's eye, but perceivest not the beam that is in thine own eye? Either how canst thou say to thy brother, Brother, let me pull out the mote that is in thine eye, when thou thyself beholdest not the beam that is in thine own eye? Thou hypocrite, cast out first the beam out of thine own eye, and then shalt thou see clearly to pull out the mote that is in thy brother's eye" (verses 41 and 42).

And there are many, many more examples, of course.

Why do you think Christ feels so strongly about the subject? Have you ever thought it might be because one of His primary responsibilities in heaven is to mediate for us before God. Who is our chief critic after all? We know that Satan is. And he has regularly delivered his poisonous barbs against us directly before God's throne (Revelation 12:10).

After Jesus has heard us snidely criticize our brethren or some aspect of God's Work and thus cause others to have to fight depression and discouragement, He must wonder just whose side we are on.

Another reason could be that Jesus Christ realizes when we get in these cynical, negative attitudes, our own personal growth comes to a standstill. We not only hinder the progress of others, but while focusing on their problems, we tend to overlook our own.

It's part of our nature to take the easiest route and how much easier it is to nip-tick at someone else's weaknesses and failings than to define and correct our own.

The pre-Passover season is the traditional time for self-examination. God commands it and it is imperative that we do so before Passover services. We cannot allow Satan to sidetrack us from this responsibility of self-correction by infusing us with his cynical, critical attitude toward others.

"Speak not evil one of another, brethren... There is one lawgiver, who is able to save and to destroy; who art thou that judgest another?" (James 4:11, 12).

this letter is long overdue.

'Only Tomorrow'

I could not help breaking down and crying when I read the poem "Only Tomorrow" by June Johnston, in memory of her son. I never knew Robert Johnston, or his parents, but Robert was 20, only three years my senior. When someone who has lived a full life dies, it is sad; but the death of a Church member, nearly my age, made me realize just how fleeting life is.

"Only Tomorrow" not only makes me pray more fervently for the World Tomorrow, but also makes me realize how much my parents must love me. I think that of all the blessings that God has given mankind, that parents are taken for granted the most.

Thank you, WN and Mrs. Johnston.

Open letter to President

I want Mr. Herbert W. Armstrong to be thanked so very much for writing the open letter to President Reagan. As a member of the Church it gives me great pride. This country is the best place in the world to live and is a gift from our great God.

My attitude has been pretty bad before this letter was written. I was very negative toward America and its leaders. Now I realize that God loves this country and its people, and He is taking no pleasure in our ills.

HWA appoints ministers to fill Big Sandy administrative posts

PASADENA — Evangelists Leon Walker and Ronald Kelly, and pastor Donald Ward were named to head newly reopened Ambassador College in Big Sandy, Tex., by Pastor General Herbert W. Armstrong Feb. 19.

Mr. Walker will serve under Mr. Armstrong as deputy chancellor.

Married to the former Reba Roper shortly after his graduation, Mr. Walker has taught on all three campuses of Ambassador College, and previously was chairman of the Big Sandy Theology Department before returning to Pasadena in 1977.

At Pasadena, he was the acting dean of faculty before being named after graduation and was ordained by Mr. Armstrong at the Feast of Tabernacles shortly after.

After pastoring several California churches, Mr. Kelly received a master of arts degree from the Pasadena campus in 1967. He was dean of students at the Big Sandy campus from 1964 to 1976, while occupying new junior college at Big Sandy.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelly have four daughters and one son. The eldest, Ronda, is a student at Ambassador in Pasadena.

Donald L. Ward, 42, played professional baseball, was named a junior college all-American football player and coached a college baseball team to the national playoffs three times before being baptized into God's Church in 1970.

Dr. Ward received bachelor's and master's degrees from colleges in Mississippi before coming to Ambassador College in Big Sandy in 1970 as a faculty member and student.

After receiving his bachelor's degree from Ambassador in 1972, Dr. Ward went on to receive a doctorate in education from East Texas State University a year later.

He has pastored the Tyler, Tex., church since his ordination in 1977, and was the Big Sandy campus academic dean before the college's closure in May of that year. Dr. Ward was raised to the rank of pastor by Mr. Armstrong Feb. 28. He also pastors the Big Sandy church.

Dr. Ward and his wife Wanda will celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary in April. They have two daughters, their youngest, Donna, is a student at Ambassador in Pasadena.

Bill Bradford, now ministering to three churches in Louisiana and Texas, was raised in rank to pastor, as well as Donald Ward, newly appointed dean of faculty at the Big Sandy campus. (See story page 3.)

Why the Church?

Following the ordinations, Mr. Armstrong spoke on what and why is the Church, where it is going, and how it is going to get there.

Mr. Armstrong said the Church of God, founded in A.D. 31, is a spiritual organism, not a physical building made of wood, stone and mortar, with steep standing roofs and steeples pointing upward.

The Church (ekklesia), he said, is a called-out group of people that gets together in a building to hold services.

He went on to say that God first created angels and placed them on the earth with a throne of earthwide rulership. He then placed on that throne a super archangel, the great cherub Lucifer, to administer the government of God over the earth.

Lucifer rebelled and led his angels into rebellion. He became Satan the devil; his angels became demons. Satan is still on that throne, invisible to human eyes, today. They are spirit beings with immortal life, he said.

God then said, Let us create man in our image (Genesis 1:26), but composed of material flesh and blood from the ground, for the purpose of developing perfect, holy and righteous character, Mr. Armstrong said.

Adam failed, and in so doing made the decision for his human family to reject the government of God based on the law of God. The result was that Adam's sin cut the world as a whole off from God, he said.

Jesus Christ, the second Adam, came more than 1,950 years ago. He qualified to restore the government of God. Christ said, I will build my church and the gates of the grave shall not prevail against it (Matthew 16:18), Mr. Armstrong said.

One hundred 19-year time cycles later His Church is still in existence, Mr. Armstrong said as he ended his three-hour sermon with the analogy of John the Baptist — a voice crying out in the wilderness proclaiming Christ's First Coming to a physical temple.

So likewise God's apostle today is proclaiming the Second Coming of Christ, this time to a spiritual temple (Church), which will rise to meet Christ in the air changed to glorious spirit beings (immortality), Mr. Armstrong said.

Accompanying Mr. Armstrong on the Work's G-II jet were Leon and Reba Walker, Dean and Maxine Blackwell, Mr. Waterhouse, Mr. Tkach and Mel Olinger.

Chinese troupe dances in Ambassador Auditorium

PASADENA — Ambassador College played host to the Stars of China National Dancers March 3 to 7. The group, chosen from the best dancers of the 56 nationalities of the People's Republic of China, gave three performances in the Ambassador Auditorium. Two of the performances were free of charge for children in the Pasadena area.

The dance troupe was first brought to North America by the McPherson Foundation of Victoria, B.C., and the Chinese-Canadian Friendship Association, in a cultural exchange program, to tour western Canada.

The exclusive United States engagement was arranged following discussions among Auditorium managing director Ellis LaRavia, Wayne Shikrit of the Ambassador International Cultural Foundation and John Dyck of the McPherson Foundation.

While in Pasadena the Chinese performers lived on campus and mingled with the Ambassador students. They were accompanied by students to the San Diego, Calif., Zoo, Sea World and a trip to Disneyland.

Madame Xie Heng, wife of the People's Republic of China consul general to the western United States, attended the Wednesday evening performance, and stayed on campus that night. A reception followed the main performance, where the guests were introduced to the dancers.

Archaeologist reports on project on Euphrates, sponsored by AICF

PASADENA — Did man conduct international trade for thousands of years before the advent of modern commercial shipping? Evidence suggesting such commerce among ancient civilizations was only a portion of the material presented in a slide-lecture report by archaeologist Marilyn Kelly-Buccellati, March 4 at the California Institute of Technology.

Lloyd Cotson, president of the Archaeological Institute of America (AIA), spoke glowingly in his introductory remarks to AIA members and guests, of the Ambassador International Cultural Foundation's financial and other involvement with this northeastern Syrian excavation project on the Euphrates, according to Herman L. Couple celebrate 60th NORTHPORT, N.Y. — Ralph and Corali Capo celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary Feb. 5 with their two children, 11 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

The Capos began attending God's Church in 1971 and now head four generations who attend the Long Island, N.Y., church. Their son Charles is a deacon who coordinates Plain Truth distribution on Long Island.

Two of Charles' sons, Paul and Charles Jr., usher and provide church information. The fourth generation is comprised of Paul's children, Emily and Benjamin, and Charles Jr.'s son, Seth.

Charles' third son, James, is a senior at Ambassador College and editor of the student newspaper, the Ambassador Portfolio. Three-year-old Jason attends services as well as Charles' two stepsons, David and Paul.

Czech tourist agency OKs Brno as new site for Festival this year

The following article was written by Frank Schnee, regional director for God's Work in German-speaking areas.

By Frank Schnee

BONN, West Germany — This is the fourth year in a row that God's people from around the world have the unique opportunity of attending the Feast of Tabernacles in Czechoslovakia.

We are the only group that has official permission to hold a religious festival behind the Iron Curtain. For our brethren in East Germany, Poland and other East Bloc nations this is of tremendous importance!

Before the Feast site opened in Czechoslovakia, they could only keep the Feast days as a group secretly, sometimes under extreme difficulties, all crowding into a small vacation village room for services.

Hymn singing was often not possible.

Ever present was the danger of getting caught, as actually happened in 1972 in East Berlin, East Germany. Thankfully God was on our side, and after investigation we were miraculously allowed to continue.

Since 1978 our brethren have been able to keep the Feast in a more pleasant atmosphere in Czechoslovakia. This year we are moving the Feast site to Brno (pronounced Bruno), the second-largest city in Czechoslovakia, located about 80 miles north of Vienna, Austria.

At Brno we have approval of Cedok, the official Czechoslovakian government tourist agency. Cedok goes all out to make the Feast of Tabernacles a really wonderful and unique experience.

Perhaps you haven't realized that you can play an important role to help keep this vital door open. We have mutually agreed on a minimum of 200 Feastgoers from the West. One hundred of these will come from the German-speaking area of Europe. That means we will need 100 of you brethren from the United States and other parts of the Free World.

What Brno offers

The Feast at Brno, Czechoslovakia, is second to none spiritually. Via film, Pastor General Herbert W. Armstrong will be our guest speaker and other speakers will bring sermons, on alternate days speaking in English and German.

There will be professional quality simultaneous translations into English of the German sermons and vice versa.

Meals and lodging are provided in the newly built, first-class Hotel Veronez, located toward the outskirts of town, near Brno's famous fairgrounds.

Prices for room and board for the entire stay beginning with the evening meal just before the get-together service Monday, Oct. 12 and ending with breakfast on Wednesday, Oct. 20 are as follows:

DM (deutsche mark) 512 ($256) per adult, double occupancy.

DM 410 ($205) per child, ages 3 to 12 years.

The above prices also include two special dinners and a formal dance.

On Thursday, Oct. 15, everyone has the option of an interesting all-day bus trip to the world-famous city of Vienna. Services will take place in the Viennese Palvy Palace. After services there will be sight-seeing, including the crown jewels and Charlemagne's crown of the Holy Roman Empire.

For those flying in to Frankfurt, West Germany, we are arranging a deluxe bus tour to Brno and return to Frankfurt for 40 people.

We begin with a Sabbath service at the Sheraton Airport Hotel, Frankfurt, on Saturday, Oct. 12. The bus goes via Prague, Czechoslovakia, and returns via Salzburg, Austria, and Munich and Nuremberg, West Germany, with arrival in Frankfurt on Thursday, Oct. 22, about 2 p.m. The cost for this tour is about $215, all meals and overnights included.

If you are interested please write by airmail to Ambassador College, Poppelsdorfer Allee 53, 5300 Bonn 1, West Germany, or International Office, Ambassador College, 300 W. Green St., Pasadena, Calif., 91123, U.S.A., and we will send you detailed information and application forms by return mail.

Hope to see you in Brno!

Pasadena evangelist visits Zimbabwe, South Africa

PASADENA — "Everywhere we went, we found evidence of God's Spirit working in His people. They showed great enthusiasm and zeal for the Work." Evangelist Harold Jackson made these comments on his return here Feb. 19 from a 30-day tour of Zimbabwe and South Africa that covered more than 26,000 miles and involved nearly 54 hours of flight time.

Mr. Jackson was sent by Pastor General Herbert W. Armstrong to bring a personal message from him expressing his interest and concern for the brethren there.

Physical boundaries

God's Work in Zimbabwe has faced a number of external trials over the past few years, Mr. Jackson noted. The California-size country (150,000 square miles) was split between warring factions until recently, when the British government mediated a peace settlement and national elections.

According to the 1981 World Almanac, roughly 3 percent of Zimbabwe's 7,254,000 population is white, with 96 percent members of Bantu tribes and the remaining 1 percent made up of a number of small minorities.

The war-torn country settled down after the election of Prime Minister Robert Mugabe, but later faced trouble between 30,000 former guerrillas loyal to either Mr. Mugabe or Joshua Nkomo — arch-rivals in the civil war.

Ron Stoddart, the full-time minister in Zimbabwe, stated that no Church members were seriously hurt or killed as a result of the war. Mr. Stoddart reported that he had experienced divine protection during the war and related an incident involving one member:

"During the war if you wanted to travel anywhere you had to travel with an armed convoy. Otherwise you were taking your life in your hands. One of our members joined a convoy one day that had approximately 50 vehicles, including armed transport trucks and military equipment. Somehow, he got separated from the convoy, which was later ambushed and many persons killed."

Mr. Stoddart wondered, "How can you lose a 50-vehicle convoy?" He said that for no one in a group as large as the church (330 attend services and Bible studies) to be affected by the war was "a miracle."

South Africa

After visiting the churches in Salisbury and Bulawayo, Mr. Jackson flew to South Africa. Describing the country, the evangelist reported: "South Africa is located on the southern tip of the African continent. It covers 472,000 square miles, with a population of 24 million. Of this, 4.4 million are white, 2.5 million are colored (mixed races), 0.8 million are Asian and the remaining 16.3 million are black."

He spoke of the strategic geographical location, pointing out that "near the Capetown area you can see the green Atlantic and blue Indian oceans as they come together. The waters become turbulent and many ships have been lost in the area."

He reported that the Church there meets in 14 locations with 1,075 baptized members led by regional director Roy McCarthy under Mr. Armstrong. "In addition," he said, "we have baptized members in Lesoto, Swaziland and

New Zealand youths enjoy SEP

By Beverly Kelly

GEM RESORT, New Zealand — Late December provided warm temperatures for 46 campers from the North and South islands and from Fiji who attended the Summer Educational Program here Dec. 15 to 24.

For 10 activity-filled days, teenagers sailed, waterskied, abseiled, canoed, fished, orienteered, shot with rifles and bows, learned bushcraft, attended nature classes and built camps.

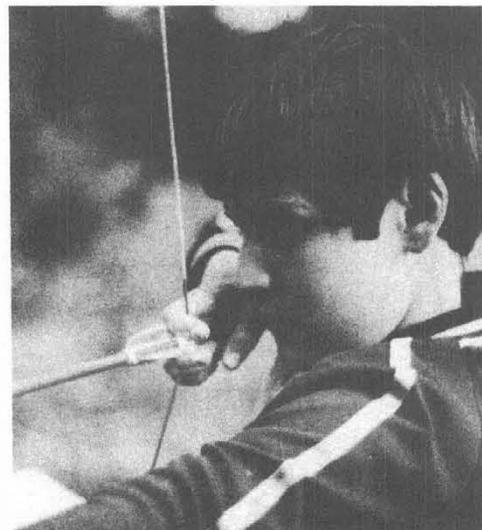

Campers aged 13 to 16 learned teamwork and developed skills under the direction of the SEP staff, which encouraged youths to achieve various levels of ability. Campers learned that with a little effort they could often attain expert levels of achievement.

An important part of the camp proved to be educational classes on the seven laws of success and the Ten Commandments, taught by Peter Nathan, Colin Kelly and Colin Riseborough, three New Zealand ministers.

A Bible bowl was played Sabbath morning.

At the SEP program's completion, certificates and prizes were presented after a barbecue dinner and sing-along. Merit awards for achievement, attitude and teamwork were given to deserving campers. Rachel Best was honored as the best girl camper, while Peter Best was named best boy camper.

MINISTERS MEET — Australian regional director Robert Morton (center) traveled to Singapore Jan. 28 for meetings with God's ministers and wives in Asia, according to Rod Matthews, manager of the International Office of Ministerial Services. EDITOR'S CHOICE: UNLEAVENED BREAD RECIPES

The Worldwide News is bringing you an editor's choice of unleavened bread recipes this year as a service to readers who may have a hard time finding leavenless instructions in their own cookbooks.

The recipes were chosen from past issues of The Worldwide News by the Ambassador College Home Economics Department. Assistant professor Mary Hegvold, graduate assistant Debbie Wood and the meal management class worked together to prepare the unleavened delicacies pictured on this page. Our thanks to them.

CHEESEBURGER PIE
Unbaked 9 in. pie shell; 1 lb. lean ground beef; ½ c. chopped onion; 1 8 oz. can tomato sauce; ¼ c. snipped parsley; 1 2 oz. can chopped mushrooms, drained; ¼ t. dried oregano leaves, crushed; ¼ t. salt; ½ t. pepper; 2 T. whole wheat flour; 3 ½ 4 oz. grated sharp natural cheddar cheese; ½ c. fine Rye Crisp crumbs. Prepare one 9 in. unbaked pie shell. In skillet, brown beef and onion; drain; place in a bowl. Sprinkle 2 T. flour over top of meat and blend in. Stir in tomato sauce, parsley, mushrooms, oregano, salt and pepper; set aside. Spoon meat mixture into shell. Mix grated cheese and Rye Crisp crumbs. Sprinkle over top of filling. Bake in oven at 350°F (175°C) for 50 to 55 min. Let stand 10 min. Serves 6.

QUICK CHEESE QUICHE
½ c. coarsely grated cheddar cheese; 8 in. unbaked pastry shell; 1 c. creamed cottage cheese; 1 T. cut chives (fresh, frozen or freeze dried) or 1 T. finely chopped onion; 4 eggs; ¼ c. milk; 1 t. salt; ½ t. pepper. Preheat oven 350°F (175°C). Sprinkle grated cheddar cheese over bottom of unbaked pastry shell. Combine cottage cheese with chives (or onion). Add eggs, milk and seasonings; beat until smooth. Pour mixture into pastry shell. (To avoid spillage, pour egg mixture into shell that has been placed on oven rack.) Bake at 350°F (175°C) for 40 to 45 min. or until a sharp knife inserted into center of pie comes out clean. Cool slightly before serving. Serve for brunch, as a luncheon dish or as an appetizer. Garnish with cherry tomatoes and parsley. Yield: 6 servings.

FINNISH WHOLE-GRAIN PANCAKES
2 c. milk; ½ t. salt; 1 ½ T. melted butter; 1 ½ c. unsifted whole wheat flour; 2 eggs; 1 t. honey. Combine ingredients and mix thoroughly. Bake on lightly greased griddle or fry pan (¼ c. at a time). When bubbles appear turn pancakes and brown other side. Serve with butter and honey, fresh fruit or desired topping. As a main dish or lunch box item, can be rolled with cheese or meat filling. Yield: 1 ½ dozen 6 in. pancakes.

LEFSE
5 large potatoes; 3 T. butter; ½ c. light cream; ½ t. salt; ½ whole wheat flour per cup of mashed potatoes. Cook potatoes unpeeled in small amount of water until tender. Remove peeling from potatoes while still hot. Mash potatoes; add butter, cream and salt. Mash well. Measure potatoes and add ½ c. flour for each cup of potatoes. Blend to make a smooth dough. Shape into balls the size of walnuts. Roll thin to form circles. Cook over medium heat on an ungreased griddle or in an ungreased fry pan turning once. Cook until lightly brown on each side. Stack on top of each other in a plate after cooking so will stay soft. Wrap in foil to keep from drying out if plan to store. Serve with desired topping: cheese, honey, peanut butter. Roll up as for jelly roll to eat.

NORWEGIAN FLATBREAD
1 c. whole wheat flour; 1 t. salt; 1 c. rolled oats; ¼ c. melted butter or oil; ¾ to 1 c. water. Sift flour and salt together. Combine with oats in mixing bowl. Combine melted butter or oil and water. Add all at once to dry ingredients. Blend. On lightly floured board roll to ¼ in. thickness. Cut into desired shapes and place ½ in. apart on ungreased baking sheet. Bake at 375°F (190°C) for 10 to 15 min.

FRUIT-NUT BREAD
½ c. melted butter; 1 ½ c. whole wheat flour; ¼ t. salt; 1 c. mashed bananas; ½ c. honey; ½ c. orange juice; 1 egg, beaten; 2 c. rolled oats; ¼ c. chopped nuts; ¼ c. chopped dates; ¼ c. chopped dried apricots; ¼ c. raisins. Preheat oven to 350°F (175°C). Melt butter and set aside to cool. Mix and sift flour and salt into mixing bowl. Add bananas, honey, orange juice, egg and butter. Blend just until flour is dampened. Stir in oats and rest of ingredients. Pour into a well-greased 9-by-5-by-3-in. shiny loaf pan. Bake at 350°F (175°C) for about 50 min. or until cake tester inserted into center comes out clean. (If pan is too dark will tend to brown too quickly and may need to turn the heat down.) Cool in pan about 10 min. Remove from pan. Finish cooling on rack. For easier slicing, wrap in foil and store overnight.

COTTAGE CHEESE CRACKERS
2 ½ c. sifted whole wheat flour; ½ c. wheat germ; 1 T. celery seeds; ½ t. salt; 1 c. soft butter; 1 c. creamed cottage cheese. In a large bowl mix flour, wheat germ, celery seeds and salt. Add butter and cottage cheese. Cut in with pastry blender until well blended. Wrap dough in waxed paper, foil or place in plastic bag and chill at least 1 hour. (Dough may be frozen.) On well-floured board roll out ¼ of the dough ¼ in. thick. Cut dough with 2 in. cookie cutter and place 1 in. apart on ungreased baking sheet. Lightly sprinkle with salt. Pierce each cracker with a fork 3 or 4 times. Repeat with remaining dough. Bake at 375°F (190°C) for 10 to 15 min., or until lightly browned. (Watch closely.) Remove from baking sheet and cool on rack. Makes about 11 dozen crackers. Note: For nutty variation, omit celery seeds and substitute ½ c. finely chopped walnuts.

EGG 'N' ONION MATZOS
2 c. whole wheat flour; ¾ t. salt; ½ c. butter; 1 egg, slightly beaten; 2 ½ t. onion powder; ½ c. milk. Add onion to the milk to soak while you are working the flour and butter. Cut butter into flour and salt until like meal. Combine rest of ingredients and add to flour mixture. Stir until mixture forms a ball (if dough is too sticky add a little more flour) but avoid overworking, to keep crackers tender. Divide dough into thirds and roll out on well-floured surface, adding more flour as needed to keep dough from sticking to rolling pin or surface. Roll until thin, about 1/16 in. to 1/32 in. Cut into desired shapes and place on greased cookie sheet. Prick with a fork. Bake in preheated 450°F (230°C) oven about 5 min. depending on thinness, or just until crackers begin turning light golden brown. Makes about 6 dozen 2 in. squares.

OATMEAL DATE BAR
½ lb. (1 ¼ c. cut) pitted dates; ½ c. water; ¼ t. almond extract; ¼ c. chopped or slivered almonds; 1 ½ c. whole wheat flour; ½ t. salt; ½ c. butter; 1 c. honey; 1 t. vanilla; 1 ½ c. rolled oats. Chop dates and cook in water until thickened and soft. Cool. Preheat oven to 375°F (190°C). Stir in almonds and almond extract. Combine salt with flour. Cream butter, honey and vanilla. Add flour to creamed mixture along with oats. Press half of dough in bottom of greased 9 in. square pan. Spread dates on top, then remaining dough on top of dates, as evenly as possible. Bake at 375°F (190°C) for 30 min. or until brown.

STRAWBERRY BANANA PIE
Baked 9 in. pie shell; 2 bananas; 1 c. whipping cream; 3 oz. cream cheese; ½ c. honey; ½ t. vanilla; 1 c. strawberries. Soften cream cheese. Cream cream cheese with honey and vanilla. Whip whipping cream and fold into cream cheese mixture until mixed. Don't over beat. Slice 2 bananas in bottom of baked pie shell. Pour on cream cheese mixture. Chill overnight. Just before serving: Wash and cut in half strawberries and arrange attractively on top of pie filling. Don't put the strawberries on pie too early — to avoid getting too juicy.

OIL PASTRY
9 in. single crust: 1 c. whole wheat pastry flour, unsifted; ½ t. salt; ¼ c. oil; 2 to 3 T. water. Double crust: 2 c. whole wheat pastry flour, unsifted; ½ t. salt; ½ c. oil; 4 to 6 T. water. *If using all-purpose whole-wheat flour, sift (before measuring): single crust — ¼ c. and 2 T.; double crust — 1 ½ c. Blend salt with flour in mixing bowl. Combine oil and water; add all at once to flour and salt. Mix lightly with fork until dough clings together and ball is formed. (Do not over mix.) Let rest 5 min. Divide in half for 2 pie crusts. Roll out between 2 pieces of "lightly" floured waxed paper 1 to 1 ½ inches larger than circumference of the pie pan. Start at center and go outward (not over edge) ¼ in. thick. Loosen top paper from dough. Place dough with wax paper on bottom over pie pan so paper is up. Fit smoothly into pan being careful not to stretch dough. Remove paper and shape dough around top of pan with fingers. For baked pastry shell: Prick dough with fork. Bake pastry shell at 425°F (220°C) for 12 to 15 min. When dough is baked with filling: Use baking instructions given with pie filling.

PEANUT CREAMS
½ c. butter, at room temperature; ½ c. chunk peanut butter; 4 c. dry milk powder; ¼ c. honey (warmed); ½ t. vanilla; cream or plain yogurt to moisten if needed; roasted, un-salted peanuts; cocoa (or carob). Beat together butter and peanut butter until blended. Warm honey by putting it in a measuring cup in a pan of warm water. With a spoon, gradually beat in powdered milk, honey and vanilla until blended. If too dry add a little cream or plain yogurt to moisten. Cover and chill just until firm enough to shape. Work with half the mixture at a time. Scoop out level teaspoonfuls; press a peanut in the center of each and roll into a ball between your palms. Sprinkle some cocoa on waxed paper with a spoon, coat balls with cocoa, then roll between palms until cocoa becomes darker. Layer balls between waxed paper in a shallow freezer container; store in the freezer. Delicious served straight from the freezer.

NOTE: Some abbreviations used in recipes are: 1 (teaspoon), T (tablespoon), c (cup), lb (pound), oz (ounce), in (inch), min (minutes), ml (milliliter), l (liter), g (gram), °F (Fahrenheit), °C (Celsius).
Some U.S. "rounded" metric volume measures for food preparation (based on metric measuring utensil size): ¼ l. = 1 ml; ½ l. = 2 ml; 1 l. = 5 ml; 1 T. = 15 ml; 1 fluid oz. (2 T.) = 25 ml; 2 fluid oz. (¼ c.) = 50 ml; 4 fluid oz. (½ c.) = 125 ml; 8 fluid oz. (1 c.) = 250 ml.
Some common food items and weights in grams per cup:
Sugar: brown, packed — 200; granulated (white) — 200; powdered (icing), sifted — 95; powdered, unsifted — 123; honey — 332; molasses — 309.
Flour: all-purpose or unbleached, sifted — 115; all-purpose or unbleached, unsifted or spooned — 125; whole-wheat, stirred — 132; rolled oats — 72.
Oils and butter: butter or margarine — 224; oils — 210.
Dairy products: cheddar cheese grated — 113; cottage cheese — 238; heavy cream — 238; light cream — 240; sour cream — 241; milk — 242.

A Voice Cries Out: Why Japan Has Passed Detroit!

Prime Minister Sato, in 1970, warned me against an industrial war between our countries!

JAPAN automobile production now outstrips that of the United States!

Who would have believed, even 10 short years ago, that could ever happen? And not only Japan, but German, French, Swedish motorcar imports have seriously threatened the American automobile industry.

And that's not all! What is foreign competition in electronics, cameras, watches, many other imports doing to the United States economy, to say nothing of OPEC oil?

We cry out to Japan, "Please establish your plants in America and help our unemployment problem"—but of course they don't!

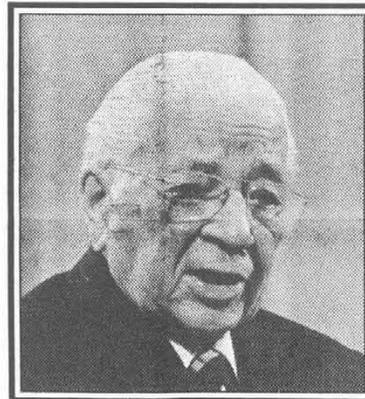

WHY? There had to be a CAUSE for U.S. unemployment, rapid inflation, the sobering FACT the U.S. high standard of living is starting the downward plunge!

For some little time after World War II we had the highest living standard ever enjoyed by any people since mankind inhabited this earth! The United States and Britain, up to and after the first World War, possessed more than two thirds—almost three fourths—of all the cultivated resources and wealth of the earth! All other nations, combined, less than a third!

WHY?

Britain boasted that the sun never set on her empire. She was GREAT Britain! Not any more. Her empire is gone! Her sun has set! And now the United States is STARTING DOWN! There had, of necessity, to be a CAUSE!

In 1970, in Tokyo, Prime Minister Eisaku Sato said to me: "Thanks to the United States, started assembly-line mass machine production. It greatly speeded up production, and lowered production costs.

But soon not only other motorcar makers, but U.S. industry in general got onto the assembly-line mass machine production for the mass market America provided.

Labor wars ensued. Union scales escalated. This brought to the United States the highest per-capita income and highest living standard ever enjoyed by any people on earth!

In 1960 when I established another liberal arts college in Britain, the average English wage was one third of the United States and the Japanese only one fourth! By then the EEC (Common Market) had provided a mass market for European assembly-line production.

But something else had happened—World War II! Prior to World War II German production had become the most efficient in the world ground up with the new and improved.

Meanwhile, following FDR's "New Deal," the United States government went on lavish "public welfare" programming. American people wanted to "GET" from government, and politicians wanted to "GET" votes. Government was spending much more than it took in. How? By printing more and more money. This escalated INFLATION! The U.S. dollar was taking a beating in foreign countries. Foreign trade deficits rose sharply.

Today this country is in dire trouble—far more serious than we realize. Marriage and family life—the foundation of a stable and enduring society, is breaking down. Morals in the cesspool. Crime escalating. We're in a world of troubles its governments can't solve, recurring wars, governments overthrown almost one a month—weapons of mass destruction that can erase human life from the earth.

WHY? Our troubles are spiritual in nature, governed by a basic spiritual LAW. It is the way of life I simplify by the word "GIVE"—outflowing LOVE—the WAY OF LIFE of cooperation, serving, helping, sharing. We don't believe it, but it's as inexorable—as relentless as the law of gravity! It's the way to peace, happiness, contentment, joy, universal well-being.

Break it, and it breaks you! We break it by our "GET" way of life—the way of vanity, coveting, envy and jealousy, competition and strife with violence and wars, resentment of authority.

It's no maudlin, sentimental or impractical religious idealism, but the cold hard FACT that stares us all in the face now—with life-and-death consequences! Our problems are spiritual in nature, and we've lost all sense of the TRUE VALUES!

We need desperately to CHANGE—but we have gone past the law of diminishing returns—past human ability to solve our life-and-death evils.

This voice cries out emphatically that now

Because you now protect us, we don't have to spend multiple billions for armed defense. But I have to warn you. I see approaching the danger of an economic and industrial war between our two countries! We must do everything possible to prevent that, for it might be more terrible than a military war!"

Mr. Sato didn't live to see such a catastrophe come to pass. But I had several conferences with him. Once, in his home after retiring from office, he said, "Japanese production and our economy have done very well, but the prosperity has not yet filtered down to our masses."

Today, however, the Japanese are beginning to lead the world as tourists and world travelers. Their prosperity has mushroomed. OURS IS NOW OVER THE HILL AND STARTING DOWN—fast!

On January 6, 1914, I was sent to Detroit by a national magazine, largest in the trade field, to interview Henry Ford on his new, then sensational $5-per-day wage boost. Ford had just

But something else had happened—World War II! Prior to World War II German production had become the most efficient in the world. Hitler had sold Germans on being the "Master Race." Wartime bombing pretty well destroyed European industrial plants and machinery. After the war they lived in shacks, tents—rebuilding their industry came first. Their people sacrificed "for country."

Europe and Japan emerged with new improved industrial equipment—AND LOW COST LABOR! In 1947 I saw German workmen swinging their lunchboxes walking to work at 5:30 a.m., yodeling or singing at the top of their lungs.

Postwar Japanese auto workers worked overtime without pay "for their country." That's why U.S. advertising agencies use the slogan for their Japanese auto client, "WE ARE DRIVEN!"

U.S. workers were working for SELF—more pay, shorter hours, more benefits. Meanwhile, U.S. industrial machinery was not being replaced with more modern models. Neither capital-management nor workers were willing to "sacrifice for country"—do away with old plants and equipment while rebuilding from the ground up with the new and improved.

Meanwhile, following FDR's "New Deal," the United States government went on lavish "public welfare" programming. American people wanted to "GET" from government, and politicians wanted to "GET" votes. Government was spending much more than it took in. How? By printing more and more money. This voice cries out emphatically that now, that unseen "Strong Hand from Someplace" is about to intervene dynamically, before MAN annihilates mankind from the earth, and save a misguided humanity from itself! Your believing that makes no difference—it's as CERTAIN as the rising and setting of tomorrow's sun!

Even our so-called human nature is going to be changed! The world is going to be changed from the "GET" principle of life to the "GIVE." And the GOOD NEWS is, a new world of PEACE, contentment, happiness, universal well-being and salvation for all is just around the corner—AFTER a misguided mankind first brings itself to the final grand-smash climax of world trouble and to the very brink of total destruction!

LOCAL CHURCH NEWS

CHURCH ACTIVITIES

Following services Jan. 17 the BASILDON, England, church had its winter social. Organized by the United Singles, the program started with games for all, followed by a meal of hot chicken and chips, fruit salad and refreshments. Afterward a talent show was presented. The last event was dancing, while the children had a film show. The high point was the singles' progressive ballet. Peter Webster.

More than 60 people of the BRIGHTON, England, church participated in a winter barbecue and walk at the home of Steve Spykerman Jan. 24. In the early afternoon most of the group set off on a muddy walk through the countryside, while some remained to prepare a bonfire and firework display. As darkness fell, the walkers returned to beefburgers and wine, followed by the firework display. The social closed with a sing-along and hot drinks. Keith Hartick.

The church in CANTON, Ohio, received two checks totaling $1,600 for taking inventory at two stores Jan. 12 and 20. The money will be used for newspaper ads and for church activities. Frank A. Richards.

The CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo., congregation had a special Sabbath Jan. 24. A group from the St. Louis, Mo., church, under the direction of local elder Will Malone, entertained at a social. After the sermon by Mr. Malone, a chili and soup lunch was served, followed by social activities and entertainment of song and dance by the St. Louis chorale. Members from the Poplar Bluff, Mo., Paducah, Ky., and Mount Vernon, Ill., churches attended. Haydn A. Fox.

"Senior Ambassadors—Our Love to You" was the theme of a special Sabbath at CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Feb. 7 honoring the senior citizens with flowers, cake and punch. Minister Randy Holm gave a sermon pointing out the senior citizens' gift of accumulated wisdom and experience, plus the responsibility that goes with age. Jane Perry.

A masquerade dance was sponsored by the CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., church Jan. 31 at Shufflers Hall. Guests included a Trojan warrior and his lady (Mr. and Mrs. William Cowan Jr.), a Cherokee chief and his squaw (Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dickey), a railroad engineer (Bill Pack), Groucho and Harpo Marx (Rick and Beverly Cloudus), gunslingers, dancehall girls, Arab businessmen and even a genie. A band led by Joe Gimber provided the music. Refreshments of punch and assorted hors d'oeuvres were served. Ruth Bailey and Barb Keeper.

The CINCINNATI, Ohio, NORTH congregation had a potluck after services Jan. 24 at Forest Park High School. The cafeteria was decorated with the theme "Winter Wonderland" with a snowman and snowflakes. A tabletop construction of a winter scene was arranged by Barbara Sutton. Music was provided by Kelly Ambrose and Tim Butz. Ed Smith was master of ceremonies of a talent show that included 15 acts ranging from comedy and solos to dancing and instrumental groups. Pastor Jack Pakozdi sang two songs, and dance teacher Karen Jackson's Young Generation group danced to the tune of "The Ten Little Indians." An art exhibit followed, where members displayed their talents in arts, crafts and hobbies. A children's section was included, and ribbons were awarded to all groups. Vonda Parin.

A meeting of Plain Truth distributors in FRESNO, Calif., took place at the home of Clyde Hubbard Febr. 8. About 25 people attended the meeting, which combined business with a potluck lunch. Discussed as likely places to set up additional newsstands or to distribute magazines were barber shops, beauty shops, laundromats, bus stations, government offices, the air terminal and California State University Fresno. John Bowers.

The HARRISBURG, Pa., church had a potluck and square dance following services Jan. 31. The small children were instructed in a special group. Youngsters helped pop and bag popcorn. Pam Brubaker.

Tom Blackwell, minister of the HARRISON, Ark., church, and his wife Pat were presented gifts of appreciation by the brethren after Sabbath services Feb. 1. Botswana, where periodic Bible studies are held."

The evangelist mentioned one church in the Capetown area. "There was a small group of Seventh-day Adventists keeping the Sabbath under one of its senior members," he said. "In 1967, the leader came in contact with some of our literature and, after reading it, began to teach its principles to the small church.

"When they learned of God's Feast days, they began to keep them as a group. Eventually, one of the Worldwide Church of God ministers was invited and began a monthly Bible study.

"Soon after the leader was baptized into God's Church, a minister moved to the area and the members turned their church building over to God's Church. The church [now part of the Worldwide Church of God] still meets in the same building with about 80 attending," he said.

Both Mr. Jackson and Mr. Stoddart said the area was growing. Mr. Stoddart said income alone was up 40 percent over 1980 figures.

Despite separation of thousands of miles, the members in southern Africa "stand solid behind Mr. Armstrong," the evangelist said. Mr. Stoddart, who works under Dr. McCarthy, agreed, and also thanked brethren worldwide for their prayers during the war in Zimbabwe.

"Things aren't perfect now," he said, "but they're much better than they were."

Little Time Left

At some time in my early years, I don't recall just when,
I made this observation, we accept the lies of men.
These lies exploit, enslave us, I continually mused,
Why does my fellowman allow himself to be so used?
Then came a voice of power from my car radio.
The proof was in my Bible, what it claimed was really so.
I studied day and night with unquenched desire,
And began to find the truth at last, our God is not a liar.
His Spirit led me forward, what He taught I strived to do.
Then he opened up the minds of my dearest ones too.
Now my husband and I, and the sons of our youth
Have so little time left to pass on to you the truth.

Famine of the Word

Have you thought how it will be
In a few short years or so,
When the broadcasts are silenced
And the printing press laid low?
Soon this land will 'fall beneath
The proud Assyrian's rod,
And there will be a famine
Of the precious word of God.

The time will come when every crumb
To you will seem a feast,
When all you'll get is slander, lies
And falsehood from the Beast!

No World Tomorrow broadcast,
No Plain Truth in the mail!
We take these things for granted,
But their voice is soon to fail.

God, in His love, is pouring out
To you, a hundredfold,
Words more immensely valuable
Than precious stones or gold!
How highly do you value them?
How do you rate their worth?
What will you do amid the aching
Hunger of this earth?

Lay up within your storehouse
Every word you have been taught,
Feed daily on the Scriptures—
For, oh, the time is short!

Then, when the voice of truth is hushed,
The press laid low,
There'll still be feasting in your heart—
God grant it may be so.

Analogy

In Noah's day, before the Flood,
The people said he must be nuts
To build a ship without a sail
Away from water on wooded plain.
Ridiculous, he's half insane
Until that day it started to rain
And Noah and his family saved.

There was a man in thirty-four
Who started a Work right from the floor
As mustard seed this Work did proceed
To cover the globe and Christ precede.

In our day they say the same
Ridiculous, he's half insane
Like Noah's day before the rain.

Pictures of the Past

I am old and I rest alone in my chair.
People say, "Why do you sit and stare?"
But I'm not staring, I'm going through My treasures again. They are old yet new.
For I have treasures, a memory book
Filled with pictures that life once took.
My parents and family and playmates galore,
Teachers and schools and places and more.
Then growing up and on through the years
There were many joys and sometimes fears.
Marriage, a husband, children and life—
Full happy years as a mother and wife.
Then one day I learned God's true way.
I followed and that is my goal today.

So I have a life that is yet to be.
All those I once knew again I'll see.
All those I knew when I was young
Who are all gone now like a song once sung.
And I can help them to see this way
And to know our God as I do today.
But now they are treasures and all so dear.
And I keep them safe in my memory book here.

Harmony

The beauty of God's nature
Is not difficult to see
For it is partially composed of
Some flowers and a bee.

There is the changing of colors
Of leaves in the fall;
To find this lovely sight
Isn't very hard at all.

Oh, there are many things in nature
And how pleasant it would be
If we could live together with it
In harmony.

Thy Kingdom come

How beautiful this earth will be.

How filled with peace and joy!
In God's Kingdom none shall seek
To hurt or to destroy.

No evil thought in human heart
Will dwell there anymore;
Into ploughshares men will beat
Their instruments of war.

None shall hunger then for bread,
And none shall homeless be;
Their every need will God provide.
From every want set free.

How beautiful this earth will be,
How filled with joy and peace!
"Thy Kingdom come, O God" we pray,
"Begin and never cease."

What is a Flower?

What is a flower?
A plant of green to take up space?
A twinkling little upturned face?
A whisper of love?
Is it a gift from the King above?

Some come in colors of blue, yellow and pink.
Some smell sweetly, while others stink.
Early in May they begin to bloom;
When in bouquet, their scent fills the room.

What word is best to explain
A flower, a tree or a rain?
A gentle smile, a whisper or a loving kiss?
Who but God could create all this.

Repentance

The cloak of confusion
I'd worn for so long
Became shabby and heavy,
I yearned for "new threads..."

Not knowing what fashion to wear for a change
I shopped here and there, but none suited me at all.

On one lovely day
God offered His style:
Material to clothe me, and to protect me from all.

I cast off that old coat for God's armor so light
I'll wear it forever,
I love it so much!

Learn to Sew

"Oh, it's gorgeous! A real gold bracelet," breathed Sandy, gazing at her roommate's arm. "If only I could afford to buy things like that."

"Well, why not? We make the same amount of money, and we have the same expenses — except for clothes. I was able to buy this because I made my last suit instead of paying a fortune like you did for yours."

"And it looks just as nice as mine does," Sandy replied. "I heard Jim complimenting you on it."

As John bent over to tie his shoes, there was a soft ripping sound. Backing toward the mirror to assess the damage, he groaned. The seam of his trousers had ripped completely open.

Now what was he going to do? His parents had left to attend a dinner party, and his other dress pants were dirty. He had a special date tonight — too special to wear just anything.

There was a sewing machine in the house, but he had always considered it a girl's toy. There were no girls around at the moment though.

Surely, if a girl could work it, he could. After a moment considering the alternatives, he squared his shoulders and bravely strode toward the sewing room.

Both of these dilemmas have one simple solution: Learn to sew! Of course, not everyone will have the talent or patience to make their own clothing.

But most people can learn how to take up a hem or cuff, repair a ripped seam or replace a button. Count it a step toward personal and economic independence.

For the fortunate ones who have the skill and perseverance to become expert seamstresses, their wardrobes may win the admiration of their friends.

They can enjoy better fabrics, better workmanship and better fit. Girls will never face the embarrassment of entering a room to see another girl across the room wearing an identical dress!

And best of all, with the money you save, you can afford that special accessory, that piece of fine jewelry or that beautiful knick-knack for the house. Let's all learn to practice the sewer's proverb: "Euripides, Eumenedes!"

NEWS OF PEOPLE, PLACES & EVENTS IN THE WORLDWIDE CHURCH OF GOD

UPDATE

PASADENA — The first of Pastor General Herbert W. Armstrong's new television series, entitled Prelude to World Peace and recorded in his studio in Tucson, brought outstanding response, according to Richard Rice, director of the Work's Mail Processing Center.

"In New York City, the response to this program was up 103 percent over the weekly average," said Mr. Rice. "The response increased 360 percent in Los Angeles, Calif."

The Mail Processing director cited reasons for Mr. Armstrong's impact.

First, he said, The United States and Britain in Prophecy book drew much favorable reaction. "The ads in The Wall Street Journal pulled in several thousand calls in less than a week," he commented.

Second, the pastor general mentioned the book in his broadcasts, as he did in the early years. "This practice has always captured the attention of our listeners and viewers," noted Mr. Rice.

Pictures of Mr. Armstrong's visit to China added interest and variety, Mr. Rice remarked. "Lastly, but most importantly," he added, "we feel God inspired Mr. Armstrong's speaking and the way the entire program was put together."

PASADENA — Three men were ordained local church elders in December and January, according to Ministerial Services here.

Arthur S. Morris of Terrysville, Ohio, was ordained Dec. 6 by Dennis Diehl. Mr. Morris serves the Mansfield, Ohio, church.

Daniel Oliver of Aurora, Ore., was ordained Jan. 3 by Dean Wilson and Dan Fricke. Mr. Oliver previously served the Portland West church as a deacon.

William M. Martin was raised from the rank of deacon Jan. 31 by Randy Schreiber, Darryl Henson and Jeff McGowan. A resident of Blackfoot, Idaho, Mr. Martin serves the congregation in that city.

INTERNATIONAL DESK

BY ROLAND REES

PASADENA — Reports of exceptional growth in activities, income and responses to literature offers arrive from all over the world.

Roy McCarthy, regional director in South Africa, telexed that requests for the new edition of The Missing Dimension in Sex, offered in the last semiannual letter to subscribers, brought a 38 percent response — more than 29,000. And income for February is up 55 percent over 1980 (for the first two months together, it is up 38.6 percent).

Income for 1980 in French-speaking Canada was up 30.6 percent over 1979; and in New Zealand, January income was up 32 percent over 1980. Income in Latin American countries was up 104 percent for 1980.

Spanish-language plans

This year should be one of even more growth for the Spanish area of God's Work.

Plans are being made to begin a vigorous newspaper ad campaign in the Mexican cities of Tijuana, Mexico, Chihuahua, Monterrey, Veracruz, Guadalajara and other important population centers throughout Mexico. The wall-card program will also be promoted throughout the country.

An important goal is to increase the number of La Pura Verdad subscribers in Argentina (population 28 million) to 8,000 by June. Because of exorbitant media costs there, one of the principal activities will be the distribution of 90,000 wall cards.

Soon Venezuela should also show a marked growth in the number of PV subscribers. Plans are under way to distribute 16,000 mini-PV brochures in Caracas. This program will follow the pattern of a similar one successful in the United States.

The brochure is a four-page pamphlet promoting The Plain Truth in the Spanish language. Newspaper advertising is also planned on a smaller scale.

Leon Walker, Spanish Department director, has set a goal of reaching a subscription list of 100,000 in 1981.

Australia

The new year started enthusiastically in Australia. Media and advertising efforts continue to be concentrated on actively promoting a newsstand program, The World Tomorrow on radio and television, and placing some of Pastor General Herbert W. Armstrong's Wall Street Journal ads in major Australian newspapers.

The newsstand program is already under way with 5,000 copies of the newsstand edition of The Plain Truth distributed in March and slated to increase each month.

Soon The World Tomorrow radio broadcast will be heard on the air waves in Australia again.

Already three stations in Australia accepted the program and broadcasting is scheduled for this month.

Options to air The World Tomorrow television program on two stations in Adelaide, two in Perth and one in Brisbane, are under consideration and negotiation. Negotiations are under way to secure television coverage in Sydney and Melbourne.

Mr. Armstrong's Wall Street Journal ads were placed in four leading Australian newspapers. The first ad appeared Feb. 2 in the Sydney Morning Herald (circulation 258,000), the Melbourne Age (circulation 244,000), the Brisbane Courier Mail (circulation 270,000), and the Adelaide Advertiser (circulation 228,000) — total circulation one million.

The ads will appear twice a month in the Sydney Morning Herald and the Melbourne Age, and once a month in the Brisbane Courier Mail and the Adelaide Advertiser.

News potpourri

In December, Erick Dubois, pastor of the Guadeloupe churches, accompanied by Lionel Estinvil, conducted a baptizing tour in Haiti. Six young men were baptized.

Bernard Answitz, manager of the office in Geneva, Switzerland, is on a three-week baptizing tour in Cameroon and Zaire in Africa.

Plans are being developed for a French-language advertising campaign in the Pacific Islands of Vanuatu (formerly the New Hebrides) and Tahiti. Rex Morgan, a minister in the Auckland, New Zealand, Office, discussed plans with evangelist Dibar Aparian while Mr. Morgan was in Pasadena for the Ministerial Refreshing Program.

Mr. Armstrong's Wall Street Journal ads will be translated into French for Quebec newspapers.

In January, David Hulme of the Vancouver, B.C., Office, who's been working on media plans for God's Work in Australia, visited Auckland and arranged for an appointment with Whitaker Advertising, part of New Zealand's No. 1 advertising group, which is affiliated with the advertising agencies used by God's Work in Canada and Australia.

The agency staff was excited about Mr. Hulme's presentation, which included one of Mr. Armstrong's telecasts, a portion of the Young Ambassadors film, The Envoy, Against the Gates of Hell, and copies of The Plain Truth and Quest 81.

Finally he showed them Mr. Armstrong's advertisements. They commented that they had never seen such clean and well-laid-out copy.

A series of 10 of Mr. Armstrong's full-page ads is scheduled to run in the New Zealand Herald and the Dominion, the morning newspapers in the nation's two largest cities, beginning this month.

Full-color newspaper inserts advertising The Plain Truth will also be run in some of the nation's leading newspapers in May and October. It is estimated that these promotional activities should add at least 20,000 new Plain Truth subscribers this year.

Caribbean summary

Mail: Incoming mail for 1980 was encouraging. The office received 34,138 pieces of mail, which represents approximately 71 percent above the 1979 response. Mail with contributions showed a 41 percent increase over the volume received in 1979.

Income: Income for the Caribbean area registered a 19 percent gain over 1979. Operational expenses and inflation have taken a big bite, but with sufficient reserves on hand, the Work in the area will not be affected too greatly financially.

Literature requests: Throughout 1980 requests for PT, the Correspondence Course and other types of literature set records. Many of these requests were from people writing directly to the office, a local church area or to Pasadena. Requests were received through advertising, the newsstand program, radio and television.

Following are the record figures: PT requests, more than 7,100; Correspondence Course, more than 1,500; ad response, more than 7,000; newsstand response, more than 2,300; radio and television, more than 2,300.

Church news: Church attendance increased in 1980. At year's end 11 percent more people were attending than the previous year. Bible studies in the region increased 78 percent. Also in 1980, 59 people were baptized.

Dr. Kelly-Buccellati, in her husband's absence, explained in the AIA meeting that the origins of this once-major city on the Euphrates River go back to the fourth millennium B.C. The Buccellatis' slides revealed remains of a massive defensive system — a 20-meter-wide mud brick wall and surrounding moat about the city.

The discovery and translation of various cuneiform tablets at Terqa allow the archaeologists to form an even better picture of life in the city 3,500 years ago, said Dr. Kelly-Buccellati. Replicas of several of the clay tablets were displayed, along with published reports of the documented finds of the excavation.
